MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. John H. Davis, secretary to the Governor, appeared at the bar of the House, and, being duly announced, presented the following messages from the Governor, which were read to the House, as follows:

Executive Office,

Austin, Texas, January 8, 1935.

To the Forty-fourth Legislature in Regular Session, 1935:

As Governor of the State, discharging my duty to advise you upon the condition of the State, I congratulate you upon the convening of your body. Coming together as representatives fresh from the people, I felicitate you upon your opportunity to render service to your State. I am sure that the first ambition in your minds will be to give your patriotic co-operation to President Roosevelt and the National Government in solving the many serious problems with which you will be compelled to consider. In the entire history of our Nation perhaps no President has ever had to deal with more gigantic and serious matters than our incomparable President who now sits in the White House; but his task has only in part been yet realized and it will require the unified help and desire of every State in the Union and every Legislature of the States to bring about the final achievement of those reforms necessary to finally result in National recovery to the extent of prosperity of our people. It certainly is an ambitious pride on the part of your membership that you have been chosen by the people as their public servant in this hour of need to represent them in legislative deliberations. I bespeak for you, as truly representative of the people of our State, a sacred desire to uphold the President of these United States and the National Congress in the great program to again bring about peace and happiness to our people. Conditions are yet so unsettled and uncertain that it will take a strong pull, a long pull, and a pull all together if success is to crown our efforts.

Under date of December 17, 1934, I received from His Excellency Franklin D. Roosevelt, President of the United States, a communication calling attention to the necessity in most of the States for certain legislation to make Titles 11 and 111 of the National Housing Act more effective. The President also calls attention to the bill passed by the Legislature of the State of New York in Special Session last August and indicated that bill seemed to meet the general needs. At his request I am calling this matter to your attention for favorable consideration.

In response to a request from the National Planning Board and following the example of other progressive States, on May 21, 1934, I appointed a Texas Planning Board which Board now consists of eleven members. Many of the States have enacted legislation creating permanent planning boards and I call this matter to your attention for your earnest consideration.

In the next place, let me, as the chief budget officer of the State, call your attention to the budget of public expenditure prepared by the State Board of Control showing the needs of the State, which budget I, in the main, adopt and approve. The same is submitted for your necessary consideration.

Let me call your attention to the financial condition of the State. This administration in pursuance of a platform promise to the people reduced appropriations by the Legislature in the round sum of $15,000,000.00 and at the end of the fiscal year of the former administration the deficits inherited by this administration in the different funds were as follows:

General Revenue Fund	$ 9,377,619.75
Available School Fund	7,704,000.00
Confederate Pension Fund	3,826,259.07

Making a total deficiency of $20,907,878.82
(Nearly $21,000,000.00 in the red.)

The estimated deficits made by the Comptroller on the school fund and by the State Auditor on the General Revenue and Pension Funds on August 31, 1935, which will be the end of the fiscal year of this administration, will be:

General Revenue Fund	$ 9,443,822.89
Available School Fund	703,576.02
Confederate Pension Fund	5,181,783.83

Total deficit $15,329,182.74 or a net reduction in deficits by present administration of $5,578,696.08. In addition to this net reduction, this administration has paid or made provision to pay certain indebtedness of the State hereinafter mentioned.

As the deficit will be over $15,000,000.00 at the end of this fiscal year, it is but fair to say that if this administration had not cut appropriations $15,000,000.00 there would have been now a deficiency in round numbers of $30,000,000. Taking into consideration the additional items paid by this administration in addition to reduction in deficit of three funds, we could make a statement of savings as follows:

Net reduction in deficit in three funds above mentioned ...	$ 5,578,696.08
Provision for interest and sinking funds for relief bonds for 1935 and 1936	3,092,064.25
Including 3½ million not yet authorized.
Provision for payment of interest on old State bonds issued years ago before this administration took office	401,000.00
Provision for payment of Pink Boll Worm expense incurred before this administration took office	500,000.00
Provision to pay National Guard Service in East Texas by former administration	200,000.00
Provision for building and equipment for wards of the State .	505,000.00

Total actual savings in cost of operating the government by this administration of .. $10,276,760.33

From these figures it is apparent that if the incoming administration fails to hold appropriations down to a similar level of the outgoing administration that the deficiency will be increased proportionately. If an attempt is made to increase appropriations in the way of salaries and other expenses of the government, then it must be done with a full knowledge that the obligations of the State will be increased and the taxes must be increased in like proportion. Let me call attention to the fact here that in view of the deficiency in the various funds of the State now, the debts of the State can not be paid without exceeding the constitutional rate now permitted by the Constitution to support the various funds. Even if present ad valorem values were maintained and the people were able to pay their taxes promptly, the receipts would not be sufficient to take care of the obligations of the State within the constitutional limits.

At the very outset of your deliberation you are confronted with the proposition of new or additional taxes and the source from which they are to be derived. In the first place, I am sure you are aware that ad valorem taxes must be reduced. The value of all real estate has now been undermined and at least greatly impaired by the amount of ad valorem taxes now levied and collected. In addition to this, the homestead exemption of $3,000.00 for taxation has created a necessity for additional revenues from other sources and the sums no longer collected from homesteads will call for a collection of taxes from other sources.

In view of these facts, your body is confronted with the serious question of taxation remedy, and the perplexing question of how to pay the expense of the government in its desire to take care of its wards, pay its pensioners, and carry on the schools will be one of the serious questions for you to determine. No doubt you will have all sorts of remedies and plans suggested and due respect ought to be given to the ideas of various members of your body because more than ever now it is a question of "In a multitude of counsel there is much wisdom."

I have given the matter much thought and as I retire from office I feel that as we have labored together in the past in a spirit of friendliness and co-operation, I am justified in recommending to you ways and means whereby you may accomplish the proper administration of the government in a way less hurtful to the tax payer than any other plan which I have heard suggested. I am not unmindful that the plan which I suggest may receive serious opposition and criticism from many sources and I shall not feel offended at any respectful criticism of my idea, but our condition is so imperative at this time that I feel like that those who shall take upon themselves the idea of criticism and objection that they be prepared to propose some other plan better and more practical than my plan before continued persistence in objection and opposition. What the people need now is not objection and obstruction, but affirmative relief.

In the first place, I would levy a general sales tax of not exceeding two per cent upon commercial purchases to take care of all needs of the State. From the best estimates available this tax would pay all expenses of the State government and relieve all real estate of ad valorem taxes. The only ad valorem taxes remaining would be that collected by counties and other subdivisions of the State. This tax, it occurs to me, is fair and equitable. In the first place, it would require every citizen who is able to pay to do his or her part for the support of the government. In the second place, the tax would be collected in proportion to the ability of the taxpayer to pay. The present system has broken down. The very existence of our government is imperiled by the old plan of ad valorem taxes which can't be paid.

If it be urged that a sales tax will fall heavily on the poor, let me say that by this plan we can keep the schools upon a full $16.50 apportionment and taxes would be collected in proportion only as the family purchases would require. If a family purchased during the year $200.00 of merchandise, the tax would be four dollars. If they purchased $500.00 in merchandise, the tax would only be ten dollars, and in return for this the State would hand back to each child $16.50 for school services and an average of $2.50 in free textbooks for each child in the family. Whereas, if something like this is not done, the school apportionment must be cut to a point that will greatly impair the efficiency and benefits of our present school arrangement. This tax will yield at least $30,000,000.00 a year and it will decrease present taxes in a like sum. The law can specially provide that this tax shall not be an additional tax but shall be in lieu of all other State taxes. I hope your body will study this question from the standpoint of merit and needs of the State and let no other influence, political or personal, deter you from giving serious consideration to the merits of the proposition.

Again, in order that the present burdens of ad valorem and school taxes might be relieved, I am in favor of a tax on intoxicating liquor. I understand that the first question you will raise is that that matter will have to be first submitted to a vote of the people and many will seek to evade political responsibility on this question by an attempt to lull everybody to sleep by submitting the question to the people. I have no objection to the matter being submitted to the people, but what the people want is relief now from their over-burdened tax obligations. It is admitted now that this tax would produce $5,000,000.00 a year and if we wait until the Legislature submits the question and then wait until the next Legislature meets two years from now and then spend the greater part of another year in determining what law will be passed it will be three years before any revenue can be obtained from that source and in the meantime the bootlegger will have profited by escaping taxation $15,000,000.00 in the three years—enough money to pay the present deficiency.

I used to be a prohibitionist but my faith in the proposition has been much shaken by the attempts to enforce the noble experiment. It seems to me now the question is no longer one of prohibition or anti-prohibition but it is simply a question of whether we will have legal liquor with taxes or bootleg liquor without taxes.

Fortunately, the present prohibition constitutional amendment provides for its own execution and destruction. See Constitution, Section 20 (c and d) Article 16. It says in substance that this amendment is self enacting and until the Legislature shall pass additional penalties and laws that the punishment provided for in the constitutional amendment shall be enforced. By authority of this provision the Legislature passed what is known as the Dean Law, and thereby the terms of the constitutional provisions ended and all penalties provided thereunder, and the constitutional provision is no longer in force and it can not be revived.

The Legislature can now repeal the Dean Law and provide a fine or a penalty equal to what the reasonable tax would be for a license to sell intoxicating liquors and accompany such provision with all the necessary laws to properly control and regulate the sale of intoxicating liquor. The Legislature could provide that the payment of one fine or penalty each year would be a defense to any other prosecution during the current year. If anybody says that this would be a subterfuge, let me deny same and urge that it would be according to law made and provided, written and passed by the prohibitionists themselves and put in the organic law of the State. I do not recall any other constitutional amendment ever passed anywhere that provided for its own execution and destruction. It would appear that perhaps there was an unseen providence that was provided and retained by the Legislature to relieve the people from the most stupendous failure of any law that was ever passed.

Respectfully submitted,
MIRIAM A. FERGUSON,
Governor of Texas.

Executive Office,
Austin, Texas, January 9, 1935.

H. C. R. No. 2, Relative to per diem of members.

Be it resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate of the State of Texas concurring, That the pay of the members of the Regular Session of the Forty-fourth Legislature be and is hereby fixed at ten dollars ($10.00) per diem; be it further

Resolved, That, in addition to the per diem, the members of each house shall be entitled to mileage in going to and returning from the seat of Government, which mileage shall be two dollars and fifty cents ($2.50) for every twenty-five miles travelled, the distance to be computed by the nearest and most direct route of travel, from a table of distances prepared by the Comptroller, to each county seat now or hereafter to be established; no member to be entitled to mileage for any extra session that may be called in one (1) day after the adjournment of the Regular or any Called Session of this Legislature.

The resolution was read second time and was adopted.

PROVIDING FOR PUBLIC STENOGRAPHER

Mr. Reed of Dallas offered the following resolution:

Whereas, It is convenient to those citizens having business with the Legislature to have access to an accurate stenographer and typist; and

Whereas, Heretofore the same has been supplied by permitting some person, competent in that respect, to install a desk and typewriter just outside of the door of the House of Representatives in such way as not to conflict or interfere with the business of the House or its members; and

Whereas, Mrs. Iradene Tucker and assistant are desirous of so installing such desk and typewriter for the purpose of handling stenographic and typing work for such citizens; therefore, be it

Resolved, That permission is hereby accorded to Mrs. Iradene Tucker to install such desk and typewriter, and to use the same for the purposes stated during the Regular and Called Sessions of the Forty-fourth Legislature, and until the convening of the next Regular Session.

RELATIVE TO PAY OF MEMBERS WHEN ABSENT

Mr. Lucas offered the following resolution:

LUCAS,
FAIN.

RELATIVE TO PATMAN BILL

Mr. Palmer offered the following resolution:

H. C. R. No. 1, Concerning endorsement of certain bill.

Whereas, The National Administration is definitely committed to a program of spending to bring a return of prosperity to the Nation; and

Whereas, The immediate payment of the adjusted service certificates of World War Veterans would bring a uniform distribution of new money into every nook and corner of the United States that would almost immediately go into the channels of trade, and at the same time would liquidate all acknowledged obligations of the Federal Government without incurring additional debt; therefore, be it

Resolved by the Forty-fourth Legislature, That it heartily endorses the Patman Bill in the National Congress for the immediate payment of the adjusted service certificates and call upon the Texas delegation in the National House of Representatives and the Senate to support said bill.
